MESSAGE FROM HIS EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR.

The following message was received from His Excellency, the Governor, by Hon. Edward N. Pearson, secretary of state:

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE. EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

To the Honorable Senate in General Court convened:

GENTLEMEN: I herewith return Senate Bill No. 1.

The matter of requiring heavy freight-bearing, slow-moving vehicles to maintain lights, seems to be unnecessary.

One of the provisions of section 3 seems open to the objection that, by the terms of the bill, it applies equally to vehicles that are bearing lights, as to those that are unlighted, which is manifestly unjust.

A further provision of section 3, whereby the "occupant" of a vehicle is made liable to the penalty provided by section 6, is seemingly in conflict with the provisions of section 5, whereby only the driver or custodian of the vehicle, if declared the responsible party, liable to the penalty prescribed by the act.

For these reasons, I herewith return the bill with this, my veto of the same.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL D. FELKER,

Governor.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this twenty-first day of March, A.D. 1913.

Whereas, Certain rumors are in circulation to the effect that promises have been made to members of the Legislature of other improper considerations to influence their vote for or against candidates for United States senator, which said rumors ought to be investigated in order that any stigma upon the reputation of any member of this body or upon the Senate itself, may be removed, therefore,

Be it Resolved, That the President of the Senate be authorized to appoint a committee of three to investigate any and all such rumors that may be brought to their attention, with power to employ such assistance as may be deemed necessary and to engage counsel, to examine witnesses orally or upon deposition, and to compel the attendance of witnesses in the same manner as provided by law for the attendance of witnesses before the superior court. It will take about twelve thousand dollars. I recommend this appropriation.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Senator Tolford, for the special joint committee appointed to investigate and report upon the strike of the employees of the E. E. Taylor Company of Nashua, and upon the strike of the employees of the Salmon Falls Manufacturing Company in the town of Rollinsford, offered the following reports and moved their adoption.

On motion of the same senator, the reading of the reports were dispensed with and the reports accepted:

The special joint committee appointed to investigate and report upon the strike of the employees of the E. E. Taylor Company of Nashua, having held several hearings at which the parties to the controversy were represented by counsel and numerous witnesses testified, submits the following report:

The E. E. Taylor Company operates shoe factories, and has for many years, in New Bedford and Brockton in the state of Massachusetts. In the fall of 1912 it purchased and took possession of the Estabrook-Anderson factory in Nashua. By a vote of the city council of Nashua, the Taylor Company was exempted from taxation upon its new machinery and stock in trade for a period of ten years. The Estabrook-Anderson Company had been chiefly engaged in manufacturing shoes with McKay machinery, their output being in the proportion of four pairs of McKay's to one of Goodyear's.

The Taylor Company proposed to manufacture in the Estabrook-Anderson factory a shoe upon which only Goodyear machines should be used. This project required the removal of the McKay machines and the installation of Goodyear machines in their place. It also required the operatives who were accustomed to McKay machines to spend some time in learning to operate Goodyear machines.

The resolution under which the committee is acting states that the Taylor Company, in consideration of exemption from taxation for a term of ten years upon its stock in trade and new machinery, made certain promises relative to employing the employees of the Estabrook-Anderson Company and to increasing the payroll. It was urged at the hearings that the Taylor Company agreed to employ all the employees of the Estabrook-Anderson Company as fast as places could be found for them. While there is nothing in the records of the city government to show what, if any, promises were made, the committee finds that the Taylor Company had stated that it would employ the Estabrook-Anderson operatives as fast as places could be found for them, and that the management gave the foremen instructions to employ none but Estabrook-Anderson employees. The Taylor Company fulfilled its promises as to the Estabrook-Anderson employees and as to increasing its payroll until the strike made further fulfillment impossible.

The shoe manufactured in this factory is a new venture for the Taylor Company. As the success of the Nashua factory depended in a considerable degree upon the quality of its initial product, the company was particularly desirous of having its shoes carefully made, so that their customers would continue to place orders with them. This resulted in the Taylor Company's foremen requiring the operatives to exercise unusual care in their work on the first goods made with a consequent decrease of production. Among other causes which contributed to a decrease in production was the time required by the operatives in learning to operate the new machinery and the delay incident to installing the same. Although the Taylor Company apparently paid the same price per dozen as the Estabrook-Anderson Company on practically every operation and increased the wages on many operations, for the foregoing reasons some operatives did not earn as large a weekly wage as they had received under Estabrook-Anderson. On the other hand, many operatives were earning higher wages than under the old management despite the fact that there had not been time for the factory to become fully systematized. Dissatisfaction arose among the employees, however, and the Grand Master Workman of the Knights of Labor came to Nashua and organized a branch of that association.

Mr. Taylor testified that for several years there had been in his Massachusetts factories a Boot & Shoe Workers Union, an organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and that he had never had any serious trouble with his employees prior to the present difficulty. He also testified that he was not opposed to labor organizations, but that he was unalterably opposed to the Knights of Labor and would not recognize them or deal with them under any circumstances. He also testified that he was willing to treat with his employees if they formed a different and satisfactory organization.

Certain demands were made upon Mr. Taylor on February 7 by a representative of the Knights of Labor. There is some dispute as to what those demands were, but it is agreed by all that among them was included a demand that he recognize the Knights of Labor. This he refused to do, and the strike was immediately ordered.

This strike continued until March 10, when through the efforts of the labor commissioner, the Nashua city government and the Nashua board of trade, an agreement was reached between the Taylor Company and its striking employees which provided among other things that there should be no discrimination against any individual by either side; that all the employees should return to work on the morning of Monday, March 10; that the company should pay the same wages paid by their competitors in New Hampshire for the same kind of work; that the Knights of Labor should be disbanded and an employees' organization formed to be known as the E. E. Taylor Associates, which organization should be represented by a business agent, so called.

On the morning of March 10, the striking employees who had entered into this agreement demanded that the operatives of the Taylor Company who had not gone out on strike (between 35 and 50 in number) should be discharged; otherwise they would not return to work. Mr. Sullivan, superintendent of the E. E. Taylor Company, refused to accede to this demand. Upon appeal to the labor commissioner, the employees were notified by him that the agreement contemplated that there should be no discrimination by either party. They thereupon returned to their places in the factory.

At the organization of the E. E. Taylor Associates, those employees who had not gone out on strike were not admitted upon the same terms as those who had, but were charged increased initiation fees ranging from 50 cents to $5. The committee finds that this action was taken against the protest of the officers of the association and that these officers were never in favor of this discrimination. These increased fees were subsequently credited to the members in the form of paid up dues, but this was not done until after the Taylor Company had objected to the action taken.

Without waiting to ascertain what had been the attitude of the officers of the organization, Mr. Taylor, upon learning of the action of the Taylor Associates in charging increased initiation fees, regarded it as a breach of faith upon the part of the organization and refused to recognize its business agent, claiming that the organization had repudiated its agreement. In this respect the committee finds that he acted without a careful and deliberate consideration of the circumstances. Mr. Taylor continued, however, to increase wages in the various operations, and the committee finds that his superintendent was engaged almost daily with the labor commissioner in an effort to carry out the spirit of the agreement as to a readjustment of wages in all operations that paid less than the Taylor Company's competitors and that all prices higher than those paid by the company's competitors were allowed to remain where they were. This task of readjustment necessarily required considerable time and could not be accomplished, according to the testimony of the labor commissioner, in less than a month or more. The committee finds that the Taylor Company was sincere in its purpose to live up to its agreement to pay the wages paid by its competitors.

Meantime the E. E. Taylor Associates had been disbanded and the Knights of Labor reorganized.

As a result of the first strike cancelled orders to the extent of 3,200 cases of shoes had accumulated on the company's hands. This overproduction made it necessary to lay off the cutters. The superintendent testified that the lay-off was intended only to be temporary, and it was admitted by the cutters themselves that he informed them that they could resume work as soon as the business warranted. His action was construed by the operatives, however, to be the first step in a general discharge of all who had taken part in the first strike. The Master Workman of the Knights of Labor demanded that the cutters be put to work at once, and upon the refusal of this demand the employees again went out on strike. This was on March 26.

The committee finds that there was no basis for the assumption that the cutters were to be laid off permanently or that there was to be a general discharge of those who had taken part in the first strike. In going on strike the second time, the employees acted without proper deliberation and in our opinion committed an error of judgment which could have been entirely avoided by the exercise of a little patience. The reason given by the employees as the cause of the second strike had no existence in fact.

The strike has continued up to the present time. Mr. Taylor refuses to deal with those on strike so long as they are members of the Knights of Labor; on the other hand, he offers to take back into his employ all his former employees, with the possible exception of about fifteen who, he asserts, broke faith with him by their action in discriminating against his loyal employees. There are approximately 400 operatives at work in his factory at the present time. These he very properly declines to discharge. He states that he will reemploy 200 of his former operatives within a week, 200 more within a month, and the rest (except the fifteen above referred to) as rapidly as his orders for new business will warrant. His superintendent states that he believes this can be done within sixty days. Mr. Taylor further offers to pay the same wages paid by his competitors in New Hampshire for the same work and to recognize any responsible labor organization which may be formed in his factory, provided it is not dominated by the Knights of Labor.

At the time of the strike the Taylor Company's payroll stood at $6,500 a week; 682 persons were in its employ. Mr. Taylor testified that it is his intention ultimately to employ 1,200 persons with a payroll of from $12,000 to $14,000 a week.

The strike has been disastrous to all concerned and particularly to the city of Nashua. It has forced a large number of industrious citizens of that city to live in idleness and to lose large sums in wages. The company, which started out optimistically with the hope of eventually building up a big business, has had the development of its plant arrested, its orders cancelled because of inability to make deliveries on time and its organization seriously disturbed and upset. A peaceful community has suffered from the hostility and dissension which have arisen in its midst.

The committee firmly believes the controversy to be the outgrowth of misunderstanding which might have been avoided by the exercise of a little patience. It believes that the company intended and still intends and has attempted to abide by its agreements in every particular and that, if given a reasonable opportunity, it will do so. It believes that the operatives now on strike have a similar purpose. There is so little real dispute between the parties to this controversy that there would seem to be no good reason why they cannot find a common ground of agreement which will be to their mutual advantage and which will restore industrial peace.

In view of the offers of the Taylor Company and in the hope that it and its former employees would each make sincere efforts to adjust the comparatively trivial differences remaining between them, the committee submitted to the parties the following recommendations, believing that they pointed a fair and equitable way out of the trouble which would result satisfactorily to all concerned:

I.

That upon the Taylor Company giving assurance to the chairman of this committee that it will reinstate 200 of its former employees within a week, 200 more within a month, and the rest (except the fifteen hereinbefore referred to) as rapidly as the state of the company's business will warrant, the strike to be declared off and the Taylor Company to proceed to reinstate its operatives as specified above.

II.

That the fifteen men who Mr. Taylor asserts have been guilty of a breach of faith toward him, be given an opportunity to be heard upon this question, and that the question of their reinstatement be referred to Stephen D. Sullivan, superintendent of the E. E. Taylor Company, the committee having the fullest confidence that he will deal justly and without prejudice toward these men.

III.

That as soon as may be after the conclusion of the strike, the employees and the company make application to the Boot & Shoe Workers Union for their stamp and organize the factory under that union, the same being affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

IV.

That the Taylor Company, provided these recommendations are acceptable to it, take the initiative in indicating their acceptance by notifying the chairman of this committee of that fact and that the employees make known their decision to the chairman as soon as may be thereafter.

Since the conference at which the committee's plan of settlement was submitted to the parties, the committee has endeavored to hold another conference. A meeting was set for Wednesday evening, May 7, at Concord and both sides notified to appear.

Mr. Taylor appeared before the committee and stated that his company would accept their propositions in full and would agree to carry their provisions into effect. The striking employees did not appear at this hearing either through their counsel or any representative, but afterward the chairman of this committee was notified by letter that they considered the committee's propositions one-sided and would not accept the same.

They later submitted a proposition which provided (1) that the firm grant a 20% increase to employees earning $10 a week and under, and a 10% increase to employees earning more than $10 a week; (2) that the firm accept the arbitration agreement as presented by the Knights of Labor; (3) that those on strike have the right to say who should join any labor organization formed and what initiation fees might be charged; (4) that pricelists be presented on all parts to be arbitrated if the company did not see fit to grant the 20% and 10% increases. In reply to this proposition the Taylor Company states that it cannot consider any proposition which does not provide that the 450 employees now working in its factory shall remain at work. Counsel for the striking employees has notified the chairman by letter that his clients will not go back to work unless those who have come to work in the factory since the strike began are discharged. The committee does not believe that Mr. Taylor should be asked to discharge anyone.

The Taylor Company further says that no general increases of 20% and 10% can be granted because in many instances it is already paying higher wages than its New Hampshire competitors pay for the same work and that arbitrary 20% and 10% increases would subject them to an unfair burden. They state that they have offered and now stand ready to pay the same wages paid by their competitors but cannot pay wages from 10% to 20% higher than their competitors pay.

The committee believes that the Taylor Company has gone more than half way in an effort to secure an adjustment and that it has done all that could reasonably be expected of it under the circumstances and has manifested a most commendable spirit of conciliation. So long as those on strike insist that persons now in the employ of the Taylor Company be discharged before the strikers return to work the committee cannot believe that they are meeting the trouble in a proper spirit of conciliation, and it is of the opinion that insistence upon this unwarranted demand is the chief obstacle in the way of settlement.

The special joint committee appointed to investigate and report upon the strike of the employees of the Salmon Falls Manufacturing Company in the town of Rollinsford, having held a hearing at which the parties to the controversy were represented and several witnesses testified, submits the following report:

The Salmon Falls Manufacturing Company, which operates a cotton mill in the village of Salmon Falls, is a corporation, the majority of whose stock is owned be residents of Massachusetts. The employees of the mill are under control of an agent. On or about the first of November, 1912. Mr. Lewis, who had been agent for the company for several years, left his position and a new man, Mr. Quealey of Waltham, Mass., took his place. There was evidently some agreement between Mr. Lewis and the loomfixers that no non-union help should be employed as a loomfixer in said mill, but this agreement was oral and was never sanctioned by the company. Shortly after the new agent, Mr. Quealey, took charge of the mill, he employed a loomfixer by the name of Malcolm, who was a non-union man. Evidence was submitted that two other loomfixers who were employed by Mr. Quealey were also non-union men.

The loomfixers had trouble with Mr. Malcolm from the start, claiming that he did not know his business as a loomfixer, and that inasmuch as he was a non-union man they believed that the new agent intended to bring in other non-union men and drive them out. Mr. Malcolm testified that he was willing to join the union, but two or three loom-fixers testified that though he was asked he refused to join the union. The evidence on this point is conflicting. On October 28 the loomfixers, who have an organization of their own, known as Union No. 50, delivered an ultimatum to the agent that unless Mr. Malcolm was discharged they would go out on strike. The agent refused to discharge Mr. Malcolm, and the loomfixers, to the number of 27, went out on a strike.

The weavers, to the number of three or four hundred, were locked out, and most of them remained out on strike out of sympathy with the loomfixers. The strike has now been in existence for nearly six months, and has caused considerable financial loss to both the parties and the business of the town. Mr. Quealey represented the company and testified that the company does not consider that there is any strike in existence. That they have plenty of loomfixers who came to break the strike, and that they have all the weavers they need, as orders are very scarce at the present time. He testified that at the time of the strike they had 557 hands, while at the end of the week before the hearing they had 404 hands, and their yardage production has been nearly two-thirds of what it was before the strike.

On the other hand, some of the loomfixers testified that all but twenty-five or thirty of the weavers who went out on strike are still out, that the loomfixers who have been employed are not capable of doing the work, and that the business of the mill is completely crippled.

From the observations of the committee from outside, we should judge that the mill is not being run now at its full capacity, or as conditions existed at the time of the strike. The striking loomfixers have the support of their national organization and are supported by them during the strike. Evidence was submitted that the loomfixers would accept the proposition made by Mr. Davie, the labor commissioner, that they recede from their original demand as to the discharging of Mr. Malcolm, and would go back to work upon the same terms as formerly existing. The company, however, refuses to accede to this arrangement, or make any counter proposition, and there is no apparent likelihood of an amicable settlement. The committee finds that the strike was brought about in a hasty and ill-advised manner, there being no controversy as regards wages or hours of labor, the entire dispute hanging upon the discharging of one loomfixer before mentioned. The committee further finds that there is no evidence that Mr. Malcolm was brought there by the agent with the intention of breaking up the loomfixers' union.

On the other hand, the committee believe that Mr. Quealey did not use sufficient tact and patience in dealing with the strikers, and that if both sides had been willing to submit to a conference with the labor commissioner at the outset, that the slight differences could have been amicably adjusted. We now believe that industrial peace might be brought about by submitting the matter to a board of arbitration.

Respectfully submitted,

MAJORITY AND MINORITY REPORTS.

Senators Clough and Chalmers, for a majority of the special committee consisting of the Manchester senators, to whom was referred House Bill No. 664, An act to change the ward lines of the city of Manchester, having considered the same, reported the same without amendment and recommended its passage.

Senator Joyal, for a minority of the special committee consisting of the Manchester senators, to whom was referred House Bill No. 664, An act to change the ward lines of the city of Manchester, being unable to agree with the majority of the committee, having considered the same, reported the same in a new draft and recommended its passage.

The reports were accepted.

Senator Joyal moved to substitute the report of the minority for that of the majority.

(Discussion ensued.)

Senator Clough moved that the Senate resolve itself into a committee of the whole to consider the above bill.

The President declared the motion out of order at the present stage of the proceedings.

Senator Joyal, rising to answer a question from the Honorable Senator from District No. 7, after having spoken twice on the subject, Senator Haines raised the point of order that the Honorable Senator from District No. 18 was out of order.

The President declared Senator Haines' point of order not well taken, as Senator Joyal was only answering a question.

Senator Clough, rising to speak more than twice on the subject, was declared out of order.

On motion of Senator Scammon, the rules were so far suspended that permission was given to the Honorable Senator from District No. 16 to speak again on the subject.

The question recurring,

Shall the report of the minority be substituted for that of the majority?

Senator Joyal demanded the yeas and nays.

Senator Edes asked to be excused from voting on the above question.

Senator Chesley moved that the Honorable Senator from District No. 7 be excused from voting.

The question being stated,

Shall Senator Edes be excused from voting?

On a viva voce vote, the President being in doubt, ordered a division.

On division, seven senators voted in the affirmative and twelve senators voted in the negative, and the motion to excuse the Honorable Senator from District No. 7 from voting was negatived.

The question recurring,

Shall the report of the minority be substituted for that of the majority?

The clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The following named senators voted in the affirmative: Senators Hutchins, Gates, Gerry, Sawyer, Edes, Prentiss, Rogers, Tolford, Joyal, Farnsworth, Kennedy and Parsons.

The following named senators voted in the negative:

Senators Wallace, Beal, Emerson (District No. 9), Blackwood, Haines, Huntress, Emerson (District No. 14), Clough, Chalmers, Gaffney, Scammon and Chesley.

Twelve senators having voted in the affirmative and twelve senators having voted in the negative, the motion to substitute the minority report for that of the majority did not prevail.

Senator Joyal moved to indefinitely postpone the bill, and on that motion demanded the yeas and nays.

(Discussion ensued.)

Senator Joyal withdrew the above motion and demand for roll call.

Senator Joyal moved to recommit the bill to the special committee consisting of the senators from the city of Manchester.

Senator Clough offered the following amendment to the above motion:

"To refer to a special committee, to be appointed by the President, and not to include any of the senators from the city of Manchester."

On a viva voce vote the amendment was adopted.

The question being stated,

Shall the motion, as amended, that the bill be referred to a special committee to be appointed by the President and not to include any of the senators from the city of Manchester, be adopted? On a viva voce vote the affirmative prevailed and the bill was referred to a special committee to be appointed by the President later.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Senator Edes, for the Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred House Bill No. 672, An act in amendment of chapter 23 of the Public Statutes, relating to senatorial districts, having considered the same, reported the same with the following amendment and recommended its passage.

Amend sections 17, 18, 19 and 20 of said bill by striking out all of said sections and insert in place thereof the following:

"Sect. 17. Senatorial district number sixteen contains Wards one, two and three of Manchester.

"Sect. 18. Senatorial district number seventeen contains Wards four and five of Manchester.

"Sect. 19. Senatorial district number eighteen contains Wards six and seven of Manchester.

"Sect. 20. Senatorial district number nineteen contains Wards eight and pine of Manchester."

The report was accepted.

The question being stated,

Shall the amendment be adopted?

On a viva voce vote the affirmative prevailed and the amendment was adopted.

Senator Clough entered the following protest:

"I protest against any further consideration of House Bill No. 672, as the divisions provided for in this act are not in conformity with the provisions of the Constitution of New Hampshire.

(Signed) "HARRY G. CLOUGH."

Senator Prentiss moved to suspend the rules and make the above bill in order for a third reading at the present time by title.

The question being stated,

Shall the rules be suspended?

Senator Scammon demanded the yeas and nays.

The clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The following named senators voted in the affirmative:

Senators Hutchins, Gates, Beal, Gerry, Sawyer, Edes, Prentiss, Blackwood, Rogers, Tolford, Joyal, Farnsworth, Kennedy and Parsons.

The following named senators voted in the negative:

Senators Wallace, Emerson (District No. 9), Haines, Huntress, Emerson (District No. 14), Clough, Chalmers, Gaffney and Scammon.

Fourteen senators having voted in the affirmative and nine senators having voted in the negative and less than two thirds present having voted in the affirmative, the motion to suspend the rules was declared lost.

Senator Prentiss moved that the above bill be read a third time by title and passed.

Senator Clough entered the following protest:

"I protest against the third reading and final passage of House Bill No. 672 at this time, as the Senate has just refused to suspend the rules for this purpose and it is contrary to the rules of the Senate and of parliamentary law to pass a bill after it has been ordered to a third reading until after adjournment.

"HARRY G. CLOUGH."

The Chair entertained the protest and explained his ruling as follows:

The condition is an extraordinary one and demands heroic treatment. The parliamentary situation is, that the Senate is now in afternoon session; if the Senate was in forenoon session the bill would pass by a majority vote. The parliamentary situation is merely technical and unimportant when considered in comparison with the importance of the bill. The situation at present is that no senators could be elected from the city of Manchester. It also means that an extra session of the Legislature would have to be called to take care of this condition. This would entail an expense of thousands of dollars to the state.

Under these conditions the Chair would rule that the motion to put the bill upon its third reading and final passage at the present time would be entertained, this motion requiring only a majority vote, and the passage of the bill thus being assured.

It seems to the Chair that the breaking of a Senate rule is of little consequence compared to the killing of a bill which affects the State of New Hampshire to the extent of many thousand dollars.

The question being stated,

Shall the bill be read a third time?

Senator Scammon demanded the yeas and nays.

The clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The following named senators voted in the affirmative: Senators Hutchins, Gates, Beal, Gerry, Sawyer, Edes, Prentiss, Blackwood, Rogers, Tolford, Joyal, Farnsworth, Kennedy and Parsons.

The following named senators voted in the negative:

Senators Wallace, Emerson (District No. 9), Haines, Huntress, Emerson (District No. 14), Clough, Chalmers, Gaffney and Scammon.

Fourteen senators having voted in the affirmative and nine senators having voted in the negative, the affirmative prevailed and the bill was read a third time by title, passed and sent to the House of Representatives for concurrence in Senate amendment.

On motion of Senator Parsons, the Senate voted to take a recess for thirty minutes.

(Recess.)

Reassembled.

NEW BILLS.

Senator Gates, under a suspension of the rules, (sixteen senators having actually voted in favor thereof) introduced a bill with the following title, Senate Bill No. 96, An act relating to the compensation of the employees of the Senate and House of Representatives.

The bill was read a first and second time.

On motion of Senator Gates, the rules were so far suspended that reference of the above bill to a committee and printing of the bill were dispensed with, and the bill made in order for a third reading at the present time by title.

The bill was then read a third time by title, passed and sent to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

The Committee on Revision of the Laws, having considered the subject-matter, reported a bill with the following title and recommended its passage:

Senate Bill No. 97, An act relating to the nomination and appointment of justices, special justices and clerks of police courts for districts heretofore established.

The report was accepted and the bill was read a first and second time.

On motion of Senator Emerson (District No. 14), the rules were so far suspended that printing of the bill was dispensed with, and the bill made in order for a third reading at the present time by title.

The bill was then read a third time by title, passed and sent to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

On motion of Senator Edes, the Senate voted to suspend the joint rules in order to permit the transfer of the above bills by message to the House of Representatives, and to request the House of Representatives to also suspend the joint rules in order to receive the Senate message transferring the two last above bills.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by its clerk:

Resolved, That the business of this House be now suspended that opportunity may be given for paying tribute to his life and character; and

Resolved, That the Clerk communicate this resolution to the Honorable Senate, and transmit a copy to the widow and mother of the deceased.

The President appointed on the part of the Senate, as members of the joint select committee to wait on His Excellency, the Governor, Senators Hutchins, Emerson (District No. 9), Gerry, Haines, Prentiss and Scammon.
